Welcome Packs

We offer two levels of Welcome Pack: Basic and Superior.

The Superior is particularly important if you are arriving late on a Saturday in Italy, where many shops are closed on Sundays. For this reason, for the Sunday, we recommend our home cooking service (<http://www.mystays.net/home-cooking>) or that you eat out. Otherwise you will probably need to ask us to do more shopping than either Welcome Pack provides for.

Guests who have opted for our 'Full Service' package should not need a Welcome Pack if they arrange for an in-house meal on the night of their arrival, unless it is a Saturday, in which case they may need one if they do not order an in-house meal for the Sunday as well.

(1) Basic Welcome Pack

This is intended to see you through breakfast after you arrive, but not much more:

- Milk (semi-skimmed, unless otherwise requested)
- Bread (typical local bread, unless otherwise requested)
- Butter (or alternative, if requested)
- Local cured ham
- Jam
- Nescafé (caffeinated, unless otherwise requested)
- Tea bags
- Corn Flakes
- Eggs
- Sugar
- Salt & pepper
- Fruit juice
- Beer

This is priced at €20.00 per head for the number of people staying (infants under 6 excluded).

(2) Superior Welcome Pack

This is intended to see you through breakfast and one meal on the day after arrival, but not much more, and comprises the Basic Welcome Pack plus:

- Olive oil
- Pasta (dried)
- Pesto sauce
- Salami
- Pre-prepared salad
- Fresh tomatoes
- Fresh onions
- Fresh garlic
- Parmesan cheese
- Soft cheese
- Fresh fruit, according to season
- Ice cream

This is priced at €30.00 per head for the number of people staying (infants under 6 excluded).
